Challenge

Managing the influx of information from the BNC is often reactive, fragmented, and costly. Many organizations are seeking alternatives to in-house systems that are expensive to maintain, while manual tracking continues to strain operations. Missed filings can lead to legal risk, delayed recovery, and compliance gaps. The rising cost of staffing and a lack of automation only intensify the challenge.

Introducing CADET BNC

CADET BNC automates the handling of BNC emails and bankruptcy documents—loading, parsing, and storing them for long-term access in a centralized interface. The platform eliminates the need for manual review of one-off emails and ensures that documents are saved before court links expire. Teams can easily work with their data, streamlining bankruptcy notice management from end to end.

How CADET BNC works

Capture BNC emails

Auto-load BNC notices in real time.

Extract and organize data

Parse and queue notices for structured review.

Access documents instantly

Open bankruptcy files directly from email notices.

Review and act quickly

Manage a centralized queue with audit trail.

Key features

Automated email processing

Captures and organizes incoming BNC notices in real time—no manual forwarding or inbox searches required.

Centralized review queue

Provides a structured, searchable queue to manage, prioritize, and take action on bankruptcy notices efficiently.

Instant document access

Don't be restricted by BNC's 30-day access to documents. CADET automatically stores them, so you can review them any time.

Audit-ready tracking

Tracks all notices, document access, and user activity to support regulatory audits and internal controls.

CADET BNC: Use case

Creditors in bankruptcy cases receive ongoing court notices that must be reviewed to avoid missing deadlines. Traditionally, this involves manually checking emails, saving documents, and tracking actions with limited visibility. Missed documents often require logging into PACER and paying retrieval fees.

CADET BNC simplifies this process by centralizing all notices in a web-based platform. Staff can review, search, and mark documents as complete, with every action automatically tracked. This reduces manual effort, retrieval costs, and compliance risk.

Your benefits

Eliminate manual email review

Avoid the need to open and sort through individual BNC emails or paper notices—freeing up valuable staff time.

Access real-time bankruptcy data

BNC notices and documents are automatically loaded into a centralized system for immediate visibility.

Strengthen compliance and reduce risk

Ensure no critical bankruptcy notice is missed, helping your organization stay compliant and mitigate exposure.
